

Leading With Heart Award Recipient

Linh McGovern

Skies Healthcare and Rehabilitation Center
Director of Recreation

For over 25 years, Linh McGovern has been the heartbeat of Skies Healthcare and Rehabilitation Center. As the Director of Recreation, Linh's warmth and dedication have transformed what might otherwise be simple routines into personalized acts of care that brighten the lives of every patient and resident she serves.

From the start of each day, Linh focuses on making patients and residents feel comfortable and valued, paying attention to the small details that mean the world to them. She knows just how each resident takes their coffee, slipping their favorite cup into their hands with a gentle smile during breakfast or snack times. If a resident has a particular request, Linh is the first to attend to it, making sure their day begins with dignity, neatness, and care. Her thoughtful approach reminds them that they are seen, heard, and cherished.

But Linh's care goes beyond the personal touches. She manages the restorative and weight programs with a steadfast commitment, ensuring every detail is looked after with precision. Her consistency and high standards mean that each resident receives the best possible care, reinforcing their health and well-being.

Linh's dedication was recently recognized in a big way when she was named one of the Best of the Best award winners by the New Mexico Health Care Association (NMHCA). She embodies what it means to Lead with Heart, and her excellence is a testament to her passion for her work and her love for the residents she serves.

For her colleagues and residents, Linh is more than a director—she is a friend, a listener, and a trusted companion on the journey of care. Every day, she gives her heart to Skies Healthcare, leaving an indelible impact that enriches the lives around her and inspires everyone who has the privilege of working alongside her.
